

I support greater localism in broadcasting because it offers the public more viewpoints that can be heard. Station owners are only licensed to use the frequencies that the public owns. I support the issuance of low-power frequency licenses to meet the goal of greater localism in broadcasting.